The Probabilities and Prospects of the Impeachment Movement.

From the New York Herald.

North and South the public journals of all parties have entered into the discussion of the probabilities and prospects of the movement initiated in Congress looking to the impeachment of President Johnson. In some quarters it is urged as a good and necessary thing, in some it is considered a mere game of bluff, and in some it is thought to be very uncertain as to the issue, and there is set down as the result, and

WILD BILL'S STORY.

From Harper's Magazine.

It was in '61, when I guided a detachment of cavalry who were sent in from Camp Floyd.

We had nearly reached the house, and were about to enter the cabin of an old friend of mine, a Mrs. Wadsworth. I took only one of my revolvers with me, for although the war was on, I did not think it necessary to carry both my pistols, and in an ordinary surroundings it is better to have a single one, which is a better thing for supper.

Well, I rode up to Mrs. Wadsworth's, jumped off my horse, and went into the cabin, which is most of the cabins on the prairie, with only one room, and one door, one opening in front and other on a yard, like

"How are you, Mrs. Wadsworth?" I said, feeling as jolly as you please.

The minute she saw me she turned as white as sheet and screamed, "Is that you, Bill? Oh, my God! they will kill you! Run! Run! Run!

Will you kill you?" I said, "There's two of us here, and I am not going to be run down, and you've no chance. They've gone down the road to the corn-rack. They came up here only five minutes ago. I heard the firing, and I saw the smoke, and they're coming up the hill. The prospector was most dead with choking, and the horses stamping on him. I know he was brave, but he was not a soldier. I

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4, 8:50 P. M.

In the Civil War trial this afternoon one of the special depositions admitted to be a man to Calver, partly from friendship and because he wanted the Reno Railroad built, and did not believe that at that time Calver expected to fail or thought that his creditors would suffer.

The bookkeeper was recalled and testified to balances in bank for and against Calver.

Rynd and Egbert were called by the prosecution this morning. Their testimony was important. The Commonwealth rested this afternoon. The defense was opened by Col. Blakeley this evening.

I doubt if the case will be given to the jury before Wednesday. Have sent you a full report to date.

Another report to a friend says: The case will probably be closed to-morrow. It is thought no case is made out against Calver.

New York, Feb. 4.

The World's Washington special says: The highly important consultation which the President and his Cabinet have been holding with leading Southern men on a new plan for reconstruction, and aimed to last week, ended last night in an agreement that a series of resolutions, based on reading and writing and a property qualification of $250, should be submitted for adoption to the Southern Legislatures to pave the way for the submission of the question by the President in his message to the XXIXth Congress. These resolutions were sent to the Governors of several of the Southern States to-day, accompanied by an advising letter stating that they must meet the President's approval. The question of amnesty does not appear to have been an essential feature of the proposed plan.

The Governor of North Carolina was telegraphed to-night to ask the Legislature to act on a resolution to consider these propositions, and minutes, messages were sent to the Executives of Alabama, Georgia and Mississippi. The Governor of South Carolina left to-night to submit the new plan to the Legislature of his State.

Charlotte House has brought suit against the firm of Jordan, Marsh & Co., of Boston, for money due from cotton speculations during the war. The claim that she was employed by the firm during the war is being contested by the firm. The firm made one hundred thousand dollars by her agency, and refuse to pay her. The firm is now being sued by her.

The Times' special says: The investigation of Custom House Affairs in New York and Boston has been completed, and the Committee have returned to Washington. Several days will elapse before their report will be made.

It is understood a majority of the Reconstruction Committee are agreed upon a plan, which, if adopted by Congress, will be the basis of the new plan. The plan is to be submitted to the Southern States, and will be the basis of the new plan.

The leading Southern men now in Washington give assurance that their constituents will at once meet with the regulation.

The joint Reconstruction Committee do not yet find any foundation for the charges against the management of the Sub-Treasury in New York. They will examine a few more witnesses and report this week.

The Herald's special says: It is definitely settled that House of impeachment will be presented to the House at an early day, but the Senate will not take action until next session.

A prominent Senator says the President informed him that if the tariff bill passed the House in its present shape he would be compelled to veto it. The bill on the Senate floor is not yet reported.

The Tribune's special says: In the meeting of the Reconstruction Committee on Saturday last each plan was debated thoroughly. Mr. Stevens advanced his plan, but it is said not to receive much encouragement. They adjourned to meet on Tuesday. It is doubtful whether a majority will agree upon any of the plans before them.

The New Orleans Riot Committee will report a general bill for providing governing Louisiana until it is admitted to representation in Congress.

The Fenian League, which, Rev. Mr. McManis, Fenian, Quinn, etc., who had been arrested on Saturday to the Kingston penitentiary.

The Tribune's special says: The monthly statement of the public debt will not make as favorable an exhibit as was expected. The statement to Congress will not be published this month, owing to the heavy demands on the Treasury.

The Baptist Church of Lexington, Ky., was destroyed by fire yesterday morning. Loss about $50,000—very little insurance.

A man attempted to commit suicide this morning by jumping from the Suspension Bridge at the highest point, but was taken out of the water unharmed.

Cincinnati, Feb. 4.

Navigation is open. Several boats have left for New Orleans and other ports.

The steamer Hiram and New Star, carried away by the ice from Washington on Saturday, were caught to-day, badly damaged, the former at Pomeroy, the latter at West Columbia.

The reported Indian massacre at Smoky Hill is believed here. Caches are arriving regularly. No more Indians are heard of between Junction City and Denver.

New York, Feb. 4.

The first open resistance to the excise law occurred yesterday at the corner of First Avenue and Twelfth Street. An officer was attacked by a crowd of one or two hundred men, women and children. Reinforcements of police arrived and after a severe battle the rioters were dispersed, leaving the ring leaders, named Lancaster and Deering, in the hands of the police. They have since been held for trial.

The police of Jersey City had a severe fight with a crowd of intoxicated women. One policeman and several rioters were injured.

Cyrus W. Field leaves for London on Wednesday on a cable mission to have a cable laid from Heart's Content to Boston.

A special to the Commercial says the President's European correspondent, with Minister Welles, was Mr. McKim, a relative of Chas. O'Connor of New York.

The tariff bill has hardly passed the House. The prospects of the passage of the Bankrupt bill are good.

Washington, Feb. 4.

Senator Wilson submitted to the Senate to-day a communication from the Secretary of War.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

FINANCIAL.

New York, Feb. 4.

Stocks are strong and active to-day with a considerable decline, and a marked advance in prices under the Congressional action on the currency question and renewed speculation. The highest prices to-day were on the street, where the second Bond, which was sold at 104 1/2, N. Y. Central at 104 1/2, Erie at 104 1/2, N. Y. & N. E. at 104 1/2, Hudson at 104 1/2, Rock Island at 104 1/2, St. Paul at 104 1/2, Union Pacific at 104 1/2, and the Erie at 104 1/2.

Dry goods continue languid and depressed for all descriptions of goods, both foreign and domestic. Prices are generally low, and the demand is not very active. The tariff bill would have a tendency to enhance the value of wool, silk and flaxen goods.
